FIND YOUR COMMUNITY
At the University of Arizona, we believe in modeling the values and attributes of inclusion that we want to see in our global society. From institutional trainings to student-peer mentoring, the Office of Diversity & Inclusion (ODI) team is committed to bringing Inclusive Excellence to life in our campus community.

Our Cultural & Resource Centers are the institutional cornerstones for modeling inclusive excellence. In the Cultural & Resource Centers, students find community connections, programming focused on identity-based learning, and a place to call home. As you review the diverse array of offerings in our Centers, imagine yourself here — being supported, mentored, and championed by a team that cares about your success.

Our Cultural & Resource Centers focus on intersecting identities throughout the year as we celebrate every Heritage Month and develop programming that challenges traditional norms. We strive to continually enhance our welcoming, campus environment where every member of our community is encouraged to bring their true, authentic selves. We look forward to welcoming you to our community and supporting you on your journey of Inclusive Excellence.

Remember, that in Wildcat Country we live our values of diversity & inclusion in Every Wildcat, Every Day!

Welcome to the University of Arizona!
The mission of the Adalberto & Ana Guerrero Student Center is to help students achieve academic and personal excellence by shaping a safe and inclusive campus environment through culturally affirming programs and events that cultivate a sense of belonging, build community, encourage critical reflection, and develop students as learners, leaders, and professionals.

AROMAS
Abuelitas(os) Reaching Out to Mentor y Apapachar Students (AROMAS) provides an extended family at Arizona that also connects students to their extensive professional network. These mentors meet with students once a month to share their experiences, check in on their well-being and provide hugs as well as support through their successes and challenges in college, all while enjoying a delicious meal.

CONVOCATION GRADUATION
The Guerrero Student Center offers a culturally enriched and bilingual graduation ceremony every May where graduates have ample space to invite family and friends to celebrate their achievements.

STUDENTS SAY

Connie Yelitza Lira-Saavedra
“The center has been the one place that I know I can rely on for both emotional and academic support and has been crucial in founding the Graduate Students of Color Collective. The GSC is my home away from home.”

Jorge Martín Mendoza
“The Guerrero Center is the place I call my home away from home because we are a family. I love the people, the activities and events. It is the one place I can go to destress from the busy university lifestyle.”

Ilse Sofia Lopez Sanora
“The center is a warm-hearted community that always has its doors open for anybody and those who visit the center can feel that welcoming energy. I’m prone to homesickness, but the center has helped me deal with being far away from home.”

Nadia Rivas
“The Guerrero Center has been my support system since day one. Without the staff, students and faculty that come and aid the center, I would not be where I am today in life. The center truly is a home away from home.”
AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDENT AFFAIRS (AASA)
aasa.arizona.edu
Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Building, Room 209 | 520.621.3419
@AASA_UofA | @aasa_uofa

AASA’s mission is to facilitate a support system that helps students achieve academic excellence and an enriching African American cultural experience at the university. AASA provides opportunities for students to learn more about leadership, social justice and creating community. This mission is achieved through a focus in four key areas: building community among enrolled students; providing personal and leadership development opportunities; advancing the ongoing development of a culturally competent campus; and supporting diversity initiatives.

BUILDING LEADERS AND CREATING KNOWLEDGE (B.L.A.C.K.)

The B.L.A.C.K. community first-year retention program focuses on helping students achieve academic success, engage in discourse on social and cultural identity, participate in community outreach and cultivate leadership skills. Students live together in Pims Dorm.

STUDENTS SAY

Nadia Groce
“I love coming to AASA, it brings a home away from home feeling to me. I have endless support from all the people who come to AASA. We are a family, we always have each other’s back.”

Brysen Young
“My experience at AASA has been worthwhile. I have been granted the opportunity to grow professionally and academically while fostering everlasting bonds.”

Emani Spencer
“Getting more in touch with my beautiful Blackness and those who share in the Black Experience with me has been one of the greatest gifts of my life thus far. That gift wouldn’t have been given to me had it not been for AASA, and I’m beyond grateful every day.”
Established in 1993, the APASA Cultural Resource Center provides many services, programs, and experiences that deliver an opportunity for students to connect with staff and other students who identify as being from the same cultural (Asian, Pacific Islander, Desi-American) background, intersecting identities while focusing on campus and community engagement, personal growth, academic excellence and a diverse and inclusive experience at Arizona. We provide a physical space and services to support the academic and personal lives of our students.

APIDA SCHOLARS COMMUNITY
Live in an environment that celebrates and explores Asian Pacific Islander Desi American students’ cultural identities. Located in Yavapai Dorm, the APIDA Scholars Community is an opportunity to transition to college alongside other students who want to incorporate Asian Pacific Islander Desi cultural knowledge and experiences with academic support and mentorship.

The LGBTQ+ Resource Center works to build, sustain, and strengthen a safe, inclusive, and open environment for students, faculty, staff, appointed professionals, alumni, parents, and community members of all gender and sexual identities. The LGBTQ+ RC focuses on building an anti-colonial, anti-racist space and shaping programs that center the most oppressed, working to meet their physical, educational, and emotional needs.

STUDENTS SAY

Nicole (she/her)
“It’s never too late to express who you are and the LGBTQ+ Resource Center can be your first step in discovering what that means for you.”

Renee (they/them & she/her)
“I came to Arizona not knowing if I would find a community that would love and support me as a queer person but I took the leap of faith and I don’t regret a thing.”

Garrett (he/him)
“The center was a light in the dark when I felt lost. I transferred from community college and their organizations helped me channel my passion in service work and I met people who have inspired me to value myself.”

Jinghao (they/them & she/her)
“This place is the most welcoming and affirming space I have ever known in my life.”

NATIVE AMERICAN STUDENT AFFAIRS (NASA)
nasa.arizona.edu
Nugent Building, Room 203 | 520.621.3835
UA NASA | @NASA_UA

NASA provides culturally sensitive academic counseling and support services with the assistance of mentoring, enhancing leadership qualities and inspiring cultural values among our American Indian/Alaskan Native students, empowering them to achieve academic success.

NASA strives to:

• Support the transition from home to campus life
• Provide one-on-one academic, financial aid, personal and cultural guidance
• Enrich students’ cultural and academic experiences through programs and events
• Foster values that actively support inclusiveness, diversity, belonging and community

STUDENTS SAY

Sophie Hungrywolf, Tohono O’odham
“Native American Student Affairs has welcomed me with open arms and treated me like family. I have been given many opportunities to learn and grow, one of them being working for NASA. I can now share my experience with other students by welcoming them to the community like NASA did for me.”

Ferminia Armstrong, White Mountain Apache
“NASA not only provided me a home away from home but has help me build myself up. Because of NASA I am stronger and more capable of success.”

Brawnson Gould, Nakoda, Diné
“NASA embodies the values of culture and community. It is a home away from home, where all people are welcomed! It provides students with so many opportunities and many relationships to last a lifetime. As a minority, NASA gives me the confidence that I belong here at Arizona.”

Isaac Desjarlais, Nakoda, Diné
“Everything you put out in the world will come back to you in any way, shape, or form therefore, put positivity in every aspect of your life and you won’t regret it.”

O’ODHAM KI: (THE PEOPLES HOUSE) COMMUNITY

The O’odham Ki: wing, located in Yavapai Hall, is a supportive living and learning community for Native American and Alaskan Native students. The wing is affiliated with Native American Student Affairs, a unit with dedicated staff who provide a variety of social, cultural, and academic support and resources to its residents. This experience will not only help in making a successful transition to the university, but will also be a foundation of creating life-long friendships in a home-away-from-home community.

FORCE Internship (Feminists Organized to Resist, Create & Empower)
Cultural & Inclusive Experiential Learning Opportunities (CIELO) integrates travel, multicultural education and service learning to empower students with knowledge, skills and values to use as they continue their careers at university and beyond. CIELO strives to create more intentional inclusive and multicultural competent programs to provide a positive experience that is open to all University of Arizona students. We are dedicated to providing students with new dynamic experiences exploring self identity, leadership development and service learning while furthering a greater sense of belonging as an Arizona Wildcat.

The University of Arizona is one of the few campuses in the country to have a Disability Cultural Center! The DCC serves as a unique space for all students, faculty, staff and community members to explore and celebrate disability identity, culture and community. We offer a variety of events and programming that promote an authentic and intersectional perspective on disability. The DCC has an accessible space on the second floor of the Disability Resource Center, where everyone is welcome to join any of our events, or simply drop by if you need a quiet space to study or recharge. Some of our programming is also hosted online in a virtual setting to remain accessible for all who are unable to visit our space. We work towards embracing our disabilities and showcasing art, music, literature and other expressions of our lives and our culture created from disability experiences at-large. We aim to challenge disempowering perceptions that view disability as a deficit; something that must be cured or fixed, and instead acknowledging disability as merely another way of being. We welcome anyone who wishes to learn and engage with disability discourse, and/or find a sense of community on our campus.
